

Vol. 27, 2020

Irish Slavonic Studies

Irish Association for Russian,
Central and East European Studies

© IARCEES and the individual contributors, 2020

ISSN (0260-2067)

Journal Editor: Neil Robinson

This edition of Irish Slavonic Studies is the twenty-seventh volume of Irish Slavonic Studies, and is published as an occasional peer-reviewed paper.

This issue was edited by: Jana Fischerova

Assistant Editor: Róisín Healy

The first three papers published in this volume were presented at the 2017 IARCEES annual conference “Journeys” that was held on 4-6 May 2017 at NUI Galway. The last two papers are included as examples of current scholarship by IARCEES members.

Copies of previous editions of Irish Slavonic Studies can be ordered from

<http://www.iarcees.org/publications.php>

IARCEES, Department of Russian and Slavonic Studies, Trinity College Dublin, College Green, Dublin 2, Ireland

CONTENTS

A Note on the Journey of IARCEES and a Special Thanks to Věra Čapková

Jana Fischerova 1

The Road and the Dream: Mikhail Bulgakov's Flight and Contemporary Russian Playwriting

Natalia Osis 4

A Hungry Journey: A Literary Expression of Ukraine's 1932-33 Famine in Alexander J. Motyl's *Sweet Snow

Tatiana Krol 22

Zuleikha's Anti-Journey

Giulia Gigante 35

Soviet Proxy or Legitimate Investor? Exploring Bulgarian, Romanian and East German Relations with Southern Africa from the 1960s Onwards

Keith Harrington 46

The National Revolution in the Czechoslovak People's Army, 1945-1948

Molly Pucci 63

Notes on Contributors 77